

AFORCE

Investor Deck

Phase 1 - Proof of Concept

Updated Strategic Direction – May 2026

INVESTOR DECK OBJECTIVE

This is not a traditional investor deck.

This is a proof-of-concept investor story designed to validate:

- ritual adoption
- recurring behavior
- retention
- onboarding psychology
- OS engagement
- subscription escalation
- ecosystem adoption
- repeatability of the performance system

The objective is not to convince investors that AForce is already a fully scaled company.

The objective is to prove that:

AForce can become a recurring behavioral performance ecosystem with:

- strong retention
- subscription economics
- emotional differentiation
- scalable recurring engagement

Before America's Real Deal we build proof of concept.

After America's Real Deal we build scale.

The goal is to enter January 2027 with:

- meaningful traction

- validated repeat purchase behavior
- subscription adoption
- ecosystem engagement
- clear CAC benchmarks
- OS engagement data
- scalable onboarding proof
- strong retention metrics
- a differentiated category position

This proof-of-concept phase becomes the foundation for broader scale expansion beginning February 2027.

THE EXPERIENCE OF THE DECK

The investor deck should not feel like another startup presentation.

It should feel:

- cinematic
- disciplined
- emotionally controlled
- premium
- quiet
- focused
- inevitable

The category is loud.

The deck should feel like silence before performance.

The deck should live digitally.

Not as a printed PDF.

Embedded video moments, cinematic transitions, motion, sound design, and emotional sequencing should become part of the experience.

This is not a hydration deck.

This is a behavioral performance ecosystem deck.

VISUAL LANGUAGE

Emotional Territory

Quiet before the storm.

The breath before the pitch.

The silence before stepping on court.

The empty desk at 5am.

The surgeon before scrubbing in.

The closed eyes before execution.

Performance begins in control.

VISUAL TONE

NOT:

- loud energy drink
- wellness startup
- biohacking
- supplement advertising
- quantified-self dashboards

SHOULD FEEL LIKE:

- cinematic restraint
- controlled pressure
- discipline
- precision
- premium darkness
- controlled light
- silence
- tension

Visual references:

- Michael Mann
 - Nike discipline campaigns
 - luxury performance aesthetics
 - quiet luxury
 - premium cinematic storytelling

TYPOGRAPHY

- Large statements
 - Minimal copy
 - Rhythm and pacing
 - Silence and pauses
 - Fewer explanatory blocks
 - Emotional sequencing first

EMBEDDED VIDEO MOMENTS

The deck should include short embedded cinematic moments.

NOT explainer videos.

But emotional punctuation.

Examples:

- category noise opening
- silence and breath transition
- founder preparation moments
- ritual close-ups
- pressure environments
- OS subtly integrated into behavior
- accountability moments

- preparation rituals
- onboarding behavior

The deck should feel native to modern investor consumption behavior.

AForce Performance is non-negotiable.

Phase 1 – Proof of Concept

SECTION 1

POSITIONING

SLIDE 1

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

AForce is building a behavioral performance ecosystem centered around:

- ritual
- readiness
- accountability
- recurring engagement
- performance under pressure

The current hydration and energy category has become crowded and interchangeable, dominated by:

- stimulation
- hype
- spikes
- short-term performance promises

AForce differentiates itself by operating in the opposite emotional and behavioral territory:

- quiet focus
- control
- preparation before performance
- sustained readiness
- ritualized consistency

At the center of the brand is a simple behavioral system:

Pause.

Hydrate.

Lock in.

Perform.

This ritual becomes:

- the behavioral infrastructure
- the onboarding system
- the retention engine
- the subscription driver
- the ecosystem foundation

The product creates entry.

The ritual creates behavior.

The OS creates retention.

The immediate objective is not aggressive scale, but proof of concept. Performance is non-negotiable.

Before America's Real Deal we build proof.

After America's Real Deal we build scale.

SLIDE 2

THE NOISE

Visual montage:

- energy drinks
- stimulation

- hype
- chaos
- clutter
- overload

Fast cuts.

Loud.

Overstimulated.

Potential embedded video:

5–8 seconds.

SLIDE 3

THE CATEGORY PROBLEM

The performance category has become crowded, repetitive, and interchangeable.

Every brand promises:

- energy
- hydration
- recovery
- performance

Consumers no longer hear the message.

The category has become noise.

Most brands create spikes.

Very few create sustained readiness.

SLIDE 4

THE SILENCE

Black screen.

One line only:

“Performance is not built in noise.”

Pause.
Silence.

SLIDE 5

THE CATEGORY SHIFT

AForce is not a hydration brand.

It is a behavioral performance ecosystem.

Hydration is the entry point.

The larger opportunity is:

- recurring engagement
- accountability
- retention
- optimization
- ecosystem adoption

Others react after performance drops.

AForce prepares people before performance begins.

Where competitors sell moments,
AForce builds readiness.

SLIDE 6

PERFORMANCE IS NON-NEGOTIABLE

There is a certain kind of person who does not get to be off.

People operating under:

- pressure
- responsibility
- expectations
- constant performance demands

The founder before the raise.
The athlete before warm-up.
The performer backstage.
The surgeon before rounds.
Performance is non-negotiable.

SLIDE 7

THE RITUAL

Pause.
Hydrate.
Lock in.
Perform.

This is not a tagline.

It is the behavioral operating system.

Everything:

- onboarding
- retention
- OS
- packaging
- content
- community
- reminders
- accountability
- subscription

is built around this ritual.

The ritual creates accountability.
Accountability creates retention.

Potential embedded ritual video:
quiet preparation sequence.

SECTION 2

PRODUCT & ECOSYSTEM

SLIDE 8

THE PRODUCT

Two formats:

- RTD
- hydration sticks

Built to support every moment of the day.

Premium alkaline hydration.

Functional ingredients.

Performance-focused formulation.

But the moat is not the formulation.

The moat is the behavior.

SLIDE 9

WHY ALKALINE

AForce stands for:

Alkaline Force.

The name is intentional.

Most hydration and energy products focus on stimulation.

AForce focuses on maintaining balance, readiness, and sustained performance under pressure.

The foundation is premium alkaline hydration at pH 8.8.

Why it matters:

- supports hydration efficiency

- helps maintain mineral balance
- reduces acidity associated with stress and high-output environments
- supports sustained performance rather than short spikes
- creates a cleaner, more stable feeling than traditional stimulant-driven energy products

This is not about “hype energy.”

It is about creating the internal conditions for consistent performance.

The 8.8 pH becomes symbolic of the brand philosophy itself:

Balance under pressure.

Suggested closing line:

“Others spike performance.

AForce stabilizes it.”

SLIDE 10

ONE SYSTEM. MULTIPLE FORMATS.

The RTD:

- sustained daily readiness
- office
- gym
- recovery
- performance days

The sticks:

- travel
- portability
- immediate correction
- convenience

One system.

Every moment.

SLIDE 11

THE OS

Human first.

System second.

The OS exists to quietly reinforce:

- ritual
- accountability
- readiness
- consistency
- habit formation

The OS proves the promise.

It does not become the story.

The system includes:

- hydration scoring
- onboarding
- AI coaching
- reminders
- streaks
- recovery insights
- behavioral reinforcement
- subscription ecosystem

The goal:

make the ritual repeatable.

SLIDE 12

THE PERFORMANCE ECOSYSTEM

Closing line:

“The goal is not to sell hydration.
The goal is to build recurring performance behavior.”
Performance is non-negotiable.

SLIDE 13

THE PERFORMANCE LOOP

Drink → Ritual → Reinforcement → Retention

The loop improves with every cycle.

This is not a product cycle.

It is a recurring behavioral system.

SECTION 3

PEOPLE

SLIDE 14

THE FOUNDERS

Brandon Burrell.

NBA.

Wall Street.

Entrepreneurship.

Julius.

Wall Street.

High-performance environments.

This is not a constructed story.

It is lived experience.

They did not build AForce because they saw a market.

They built it because they understood the cost of not being ready.

SLIDE 15

THE HUMAN TRUTH

The best performers understand this:

Performance is not built in the moment.

It is built in the ritual before it.

There is a pause before every performance:

- quiet
- focused
- controlled

Everything has already been prepared.

Now it is only about execution.

This is where AForce lives. Performance is non-negotiable.

SLIDE 16

TEAM & ADVISORS

Built by people who understand:

- pressure
 - scaling
 - performance
 - behavior
 - global brand building
 - retention systems
 - recurring consumer ecosystems

SECTION 4

TARGET GROUP & MARKET

SLIDE 17

THE TARGET USER

High-performance professionals.

People who:

- operate under pressure
- do not get to be off
- already live with discipline
- value readiness over stimulation
- see performance as part of identity

Initial focus:

- finance
- entrepreneurship
- performance operators

Launch market:

Miami / Brickell.

SLIDE 18

WHY MIAMI / BRICKELL

Miami / Brickell provides:

- audience density
- founder access
- finance + performance overlap
- lower category saturation
- strong founder credibility

This is not a national launch.

This is a concentrated proof engine.

SLIDE 19

THE PERFORMANCE ECONOMY

Functional beverages.

Hydration systems.

Behavioral coaching.

Performance optimization.

All converging toward one demand:

Sustained performance.

AForce sits at the intersection of:

- product
- behavior
- data
- ritual
- accountability
- retention

SLIDE 20

COMPETITIVE LANDSCAPE

The category has drinks.

AForce has a loop.

Competitors:

- sell products
- create spikes
- focus on stimulation

AForce:

- builds retention
- builds recurring behavior

- builds ecosystem engagement
- builds accountability
- builds system intelligence

Behavioral system is the moat.

SECTION 5

GO TO MARKET

SLIDE 21

BUILD PROOF BEFORE SCALE

The first phase is not about awareness.

It is about validation.

We are proving:

- repeat purchase
- subscription behavior
- ecosystem engagement
- onboarding scalability
- CAC
- retention
- ritual adoption

Everything before the TV appearance exists to answer:

Do people want this?

Do they come back?

SLIDE 22

THE PROOF OF CONCEPT MODEL

Phase 1:

Miami → NYC

50–100 highly selected users.

Controlled rollout.

Founder-led activation.

The ritual becomes the behavioral loop.

The loop creates:

- retention
 - accountability
 - habit
 - subscription
 - recurring revenue

SLIDE 23

GO TO MARKET

Channels:

- Meta
- Google
- founder-led content
- referral loops
- event-led acquisition
- ritual onboarding

No broad retail.

No mass creators.

No scale before proof.

SLIDE 24

THE EVENT

One high-conviction performance ritual experience in Brickell.

Not a launch party.

A preparation experience.

Everything centered around:

Pause.

Hydrate.

Lock in.

Perform.

This creates:

- content
- testimonials
- founder credibility
- NPS data
- emotional storytelling
- community identity

SLIDE 25

RETENTION IS THE PRODUCT

The ritual is the retention engine.

Not the ingredients.

Not the can.

Not the app.

The behavior.

The OS transforms hydration from consumption into accountability.

Key metrics:

- repeat purchase
- subscription conversion
- OS engagement

- ritual adoption
 - ecosystem retention

SECTION 6

ECONOMICS

SLIDE 26

UNIT ECONOMICS

Proof targets:

- CAC under target threshold
- subscription conversion 20%+
- repeat purchase 28–32%
- strong contribution margin
- recurring subscription revenue
- free-to-paid ecosystem conversion

The economics become compelling once the behavior repeats.

SLIDE 27

GROWTH MODEL

Acquisition → Ritual → Retention → Subscription → Expansion

Performance creates retention.

Retention drives revenue.

The product creates entry.

The ritual creates behavior.

The OS creates compounding value.

SLIDE 28

TIMELINE

May–June 2026:

Infrastructure + seeding

July 2026:

Controlled soft launch

August–October 2026:

Retention + proof building

January 2027:

America's Real Deal filming

February 2027:

Full scale rollout begins

SECTION 7

THE ASK & FUTURE

SLIDE 29

THE ASK

This is a proof-of-concept raise.

Not a scale raise.

The capital funds:

- proof of habit
- onboarding validation
- retention validation
- OS engagement
- ecosystem adoption
- customer acquisition testing
- ritual adoption
- operational proof

The next round funds scale.

SLIDE 30

THE FUTURE

Once proof is established:

- national expansion
- premium retail
- larger subscription base
- deeper ecosystem engagement
- predictive intelligence
- enterprise/team systems
- wearable integrations
- performance identity/community

But first:

Prove the ritual.

FINAL SLIDE

Performance is non-negotiable.

AForce makes sure you are always on.

Pause.

Hydrate.

Lock in.

Perform.

This is not a hydration brand.

This is a behavioral performance ecosystem.
